

Recommendation

I am Mr. Jean-Marc D'hondt, civil engineer, appointed by an EU project to put in place the ICT part of the National Food Agency (AKU) starting in June 2007.

I had the privilege to work during the last four years with Mr. Elvis Selimaj, ICT director at AKU.

In a few words the challenge was building ICT infrastructure on 12 regions in bad conditions plus setup software that must manage the AKU agency of +/- 260 persons (now 400). It was clear that a strong counterpart was needed to succeed. Not only the network but also AKUnet the software is in full operation. More than 21.000 licenses controlled via 52.000 inspections and 50.000 documents attached.

To succeed in this story, we had a close relationship with Mr. Selimaj.

The talents are multiples:

a very good manager understanding the key points and able to setup priorities. I had also a total understanding of hardware and network issues.

Very high communication skill, he animates the user group and the trainer's team, collecting demands and summarized them in requirements. With the project he had also the opportunity to deploy ERP software (Enterprise resources planification) that is the basement of AKUnet. He had also totally integrated the business product manager profile.

On the personal point of view, he is also a person of confidence. This a key in this type of project. Mr. Elvis Selimaj is a very high profile project manager.

Clear and short: the success of this project is totally in the hands of Mr. Elvis Selimaj.

Thanks to Elvis for his collaboration on this project bringing us also a very good team spirit.

I recommend this person and when I come again I would be pleased to take a cup off coffee to talk in deeper details.

Best regards and feel free if you want to contact me be phone or Skype.
